Mayor Isen A Judge of Child Essays

Mayors from Hawthorne, Torrance and Rolling Hills Estates will pick the winners in an Americanism Essay contest for eight-year-old children, being sponsored by Pacific State Bank, as part of its eighth anniversary observance.

Mayor Raymond Creal, Hawthorne, Mayor Albert Isen, Torrance, and Mayor Raymond Slaney, Rolling Hills Estates, will choose five contestants who will receive prizes of U.S. savings bonds and bank accounts.

School officials in the three communities are cooperating by introducing the topic, "Why I Am Proud to Be an American" into appropriate classrooms where children may compete on an individual basis. Essays must be in child's handwriting and at least 25 words in length.

PPG Sales Go Up

BAREROOT PLANTING
The bare root planting season comes to an end in mid-March, so figure on getting shade and fruit trees, roses and other deciduous shrubs in before then.
